It’s a “lost” 1965 Disney epic, deemed too wild for publication and saved only in tantalizing fragments...or is it? Serialized in the imaginary Mickey’s Quest comics from Dell in 1955, these stories introduce us on a wild ride of bizarre adventures underground, underwater, and in outer space, with Donald, Mickey and the kids. REBORN BOOK ONE
Collects #1-6. Recommended. By Mark Millar. Art by Greg Capullo and Jonathan Glipton. The Miller-Capullo sell out Reborn is where. Do you go when you die? Not heaven or hell, somewhere else. It’s a new and different body! Somewhere you have to fight to survive. Somewhere the people from the past are waiting for you—the good and the bad. A very unusual story, with exceptionally sharp artwork. The hero here is a grittily looking Norse Viking in his new incarnation; the beautiful heroine is the only one here than knows the score, and she’s a Frank Cho-style knockout in her space-style suit and helmet. Image, 2017.

RED RANGE A Wild Western Adventure
By Joe R. Lansdale and Sam Glanzman. Afterword by Stephen R. Bissette. “The first page of RED RANGE itself begins full tilt with graphic ultraviolence as Lansdale and Glanzman plunge into a 19th century Klan lynching of a black Texas family. Abruptly in the midst of the atrocity, the Kluxers are interrupted by a mysterious rider who’s a deadly shot with both his pistols and long-range Sharps buffalo rifle. It’s the feared and hated (by the KKK, at least) Red Mask, a tough, lethal, black man who wisely keeps his identity concealed.” --Locust. And then the dinosaurs! Drew Ford, 2017.

THE EYES OF THE CAT
Recommended. By Moebius & Jodorowsky. This is a very special graphic story, told with almost no words. It was the very first collaboration between Jodorowsky and Moebius, done purely for the love of the project and for no pay whatsoever. The original edition was distributed for free, but soon it was pirated and today they sell for 100 Euros (about $150). The story features a sightless monk and a powerful, predatory eagle flying through a deserted city. Directed by the monk, it is looking for new eyes for his brother. There are no panels, each page is a full, finely detailed drawing printed in black on striking yellow paper. Humanoids, 2016.

YUMMY The Good Girl Art of Matt Dixon Recommended. No nudity here, but lots of pretty ladies who have a lot on display and are not shy about displaying it. Dixon loves genre ladies, fairy tale characters, witches, a startling fairy, spear-wielding girls, several girls with monster buddies, a pirate girl, a space girl in a skintight costume, a green alien lady, an Indiana Jones type, two mermaids, one with tentacles instead of fins. And some nicely serious portraits of darker ladies, showing Dixon’s skill as a serious artist. It’s a fun collection, mostly good clean fun but sometimes with a serious twist of fantasy horror. KINKY SUPER BEAUTIES
By Holly Randall. Holly Randall’s newest collection takes the classic nude to even greater dimensions. Her models are not only beautiful, but extremely open and uninhibited, erotic photography that will keep you company when other avenues are no longer available. Each model begins with some semblence of clothing, but at the end of several pages, she’s not only naked but exposing herself like there is no tomorrow. Explicit, but also the models are very attractive, young and nubile. Lots of outdoor settings, Euro feel. Goliath, 2017.

NEWER EROTIC PHOTOGRAPHY
By Leonardo Glauso. Italian fashion photographer Leonardo Glauso has captured these natural beauties in a cross between a nude fashion shoot and private snapshots. Beautiful, sexy—simply erotic. Glauso’s photography speaks far from moral norms—his models stand for freedom of sexual expression. In short: stylishly independent, erotic, unbelievably beautiful, loaded with sensuality. Spontaneous shots, closeups, unusual poses, sometimes with a hand reaching in and grabbing or touching… Lots of full breasts and sultry, come-hither looks. Goliath, 2017.

RARE BOOKS!

Any that are still available after two weeks will appear in the Print Newsletter if we have enough to fill pages. Contact us if you wish to subscribe. We only have ONE COPY of the majority of these; occasionally we might have a second or third copy. It isn’t practical to include these in the catalog, so the newsletter is the one-and-only time they will appear in print. You can check on our website, under the new Rare and Out of Print category, to find out if a book is still in stock, and to view ALL books available, including the newest additions. THE GLAMOR GIRLS OF DON FLOWERS

Recommended. Edited by Alex Chun and Jacob Covey. When the life of Don Flowers was cut short in 1966, he left behind a career in newspaper cartooning that spanned more than four decades as well as one of the most fluid lines to grace the comics page. His cartoons evoked the art of Russell Patterson and Hank Ketcham, and nowhere was this more evident than in his quintessential single-panel pin-up cartoon, the aptly named “Glamor Girls.” Fantagraphics, 2005.

M. C. ESCHER The Graphic Work New Edition. Recommended. From impossibly immense to tessellating birds, Dutch artist M. C. Escher (1898–1972) crafted a unique graphic language of patterns, puzzles, and mathematics. Dense, complex, and structured by intricate principles, his work is at the same time decorative and playful, toying constantly with optic illusions and the limitations of sensory perception. For mathematicians and scientists, Escher is a mastermind. For historians, he was the master of psychedelic art. New edition of a 1959 classic, complete with Escher’s commentary (he lived until 1972), Taschen, 2016.

PALEOART Visions of The Prehistoric Past 1830-1980 Highly Recommended. By Zoë Lescaze. Preface by Walton Ford. In this unprecedented (and enormous), new book, writer Zoë Lescaze and artist Walton Ford present the astonishing history of paleoart from 1830 to 1990, including eight fold-out pages. These are modern visions of prehistory: stunning paintings, prints, drawings, sculptures, mosaics, and murals that mingle scientific fact with unbridled fantasy. Here is an in-depth look at this neglected niche of art history, also revealing how artists projected their own aesthetic, rendering the primordial past with dashes of Romanticism, Impressionism, Japonisme, and Art Nouveau, among other influences.
