MARVEL AGE OF COMICS 1961-1978
Oversized and enormous, with a silver metallic cover. Highly Recommended. By Roy Thomas. Art by the entire Bullpen! With hundreds of images and insider insights, the book traces the birth of the Marvel Age heroes and adversaries, grounded in a world that readers recognized as close to their own: relatable characters with problems, struggles, and shortcomings. By the ’70s, the House of Ideas also elevated horror, sword and sorcery, and martial arts into best-selling titles. The second generation in the 1970s introduced iconic characters like Man-Thing, Conan, and Shang-Chi and proved this new kind of storytelling could succeed outside of the capes and tights. ROBERT CAPA A Graphic Biography Highly Recommended. By Florent Silloray. A brilliant portrayal of the career of the great war photographer who, at the time of his death in 1954, had only one wish: to be an unemployed war photographer. By the start of World War II, Capa was in New York freelancing for Life. And his other publications. He went abroad with the US Army to record Al lied involvement in WWII, including D-Day on Omaha Beach. Disembarking from a landing boat, he took the only images of the invasion. He went to cover the war in Leipzig, Bremen, Berlin, Lon don and Paris. Even now, it is the D-Day images that marked him as the world’s greatest war photographer. Firefly, 2017.

This landmark collection of the acclaimed Italian comic book artist Roberto Baldazzini is a spectacular showcase of the outrageous and provocative work he has written and illustrated over the past three decades, such as Casa Howard (which recounts the sexual adventures of the transsexual residents of an apartment block) and Chiara Rosenberg (in which a meek housewife finds her dominant side). Also featured are his pin-ups, gallery work, and drawings of Bettie Page. Keroen, 2017. MONDEH. HCW, 8x11, 176pp, PC

PLAYBOY The Complete Centerfolds 1953-2016
Recommended. Foreword by Hugh Hefner. Introduction by Dave Hickey. With the first centerfold image of the radiant Marilyn Monroe, Hugh Hefner masterminded a cultural icon: Playboy’s Playmate of the Month. This voluptuous new edition celebrates every nude centerfold from every issue of Playboy, from 1953 to February 2016. Initially published a decade ago, and now comprehensively updated, this must-have edition boasts 734 nude centerfolds and opens each decade with essays from literary luminaries, including an all-new essay by Elizabeth Wurtzel. Chronicles Books, 2017. Adult Material. PLABOH. HCW, 8x14, 844pp, FC
X-RATED Adult Movie Posters of the 60s and 70s
Originally published 2004. Revised and Expanded. Edited by Tony Nourmand, Graham Marsh. Introduction by Peter Doggett. This is the new, expanded, complete edition of Nourmand and Marsh’s cult bestseller, with text by renowned writer Peter Doggett. The 1960s and 70s were the Golden Age of the X-Rated movie. For the first time, these films were shown in mainstream cinemas to a fashionable young crowd. The “porno chic” movement around films like Deep Throat (1972), The Opening of Misty Beethoven (1976) and Debbie Does Dallas (1978) gave skin flicks an air of credibility that had never existed before. Reel Art Press, 2017. Mature Readers. XRATH. HCW, 8x11, 368pp, PC

Our Highest Recommendation. The national bestseller and Newbery Award Winner. Originally released as two bestselling volumes, now bound into one edition. It Takes a Graveyard to Raise a Child. Nobody Owens, known as Bod, is a normal boy. Each chapter in this adaptation by P. Craig Russell is illustrated by a different luminary from the comic book world, showcasing a variety of styles and a breadth of talent. Harper Collins, 2016.

Something Wicked This Way Comes
By Ron Wimberly. Cooper and Dark's Pandemonium Shadow Show howls into Green Town, Illinois, at three in the morning a week before Halloween. Under its carnival tents is a mirror maze that steals wishes; a carousel that promises eternal life, in exchange for your soul; the Dust Witch, who unerringly foresees your death; and Mr. Dark, the Illustrated Man, who has lived for centuries off the misery of others. Only two boys, Will Halloway and Jimmy Nightshade, recognize the dark magic at work. Hill and Wang, 2011. Out of Print.

CTHULHU POSTER
By Richard Luong
Highly Recommended. A very large, creepy, magnificent painting of a huge Cthulhu, towering hundreds of feet above a lost sailing ship, sails shredded, above to be crushed and sunk into oblivion. It's a dark, stormy scene in the midst of a swirling, crashing ocean—Lovecraft superbly brought to life for your wall. We very much like Luong's excellent Art of Richard Luong, so when he told us he'd privately printed up this cool print, we had to offer it. 2016.
ART OF TIKI
Recommended. By Sven Kirsten and Otto von Stroheim. Introduction by Shag. A passionate study of the Tiki idol as an art form and pop culture. For the first time, contemporary and 1970s Tiki art is presented equally with what inspired it, beginning in the mid-1950s. The current revival was led by artists including Mark Ryden, Ken Ruznic, Mary Fleener, Mookie Sato and Shag. Last Gasp, 2017.

CHRIS WARE MONOGRAPH
Recommended. Introduction by Spiegelman. Wow! An enormous volume of all things Chris Ware! Arranged chronologically with Chris’s uncheckered anecdotes and unscrupulous personal anecdotes, the author-as-subject as clearly and convivially as possible provides a contrite, companionable guide to an otherwise unmanageable jumble of images spanning King’s days as a professional artist and his rise to his current life as dad and graphic novelist! Rizzoli, 2017.

FATALES The Art of Ryan Heshka
Art by Ryan Heshka. Inspired by nostalgia for the Golden Age sci-fi pulp art and superheroes, Ryan Heshka is recognized in the US and internationally for an impressive singular work where giant robots compete with mean girls. Here is his first monograph. Domestic women in masks, femme fatales, naked good girls and naked bad girls abound in this very strong homage to super hero and sci-fi pop culture. Cemunnos, 2017.

FATHOMS The Art of Michael Manomivibul Signed!
Highly Recommended. A fine art book funded by a highly successful Kickstarter program, Michael’s first collection showcases six years of art. He has appeared in Spectrum six times, including the new Volume 24. 80 pages of art with notes in a high quality softcover. We love this new trend title combined the best of Kurtzman’s Two Fisted Tales and Frontline Combat, with the same wonderful stories and the same superartistic artists. This was EC’s last attempt to publish comics acceptable under the new comics code. These are all aerial combat stories, leading off each issue with a cover by George Evans, who inside gives us WWI bi-plane stories with spot-on accurate details. Great, great work! Dark Horse, 2017.

HARLEY QUINN A Rogues Gallery

Scott Williams to Ant Lucia, this is a who’s who of great artists. DC, 2017.

This presents numerous historic details of Japanese art works (with a decadent theme) spanning the 19th century Pre-Raphaelites to Surrealism, including Mossa, Lefler and Urban, Von Stuck, Segantini, Odilon Redon, Harry Clarke, Mucha, Icart, Alastair, Fini, Ernst, Wegener, Von Bayros, Alma Tadema, Gustav Klimt, and many more. The first book in the Timeless series, an epic fantasy adventure that sends Diego through a world where past, present, and future coexist. Katherine Tegen, 2017.

HARLEQUIN VALENTINE (Second Edition)
Recommended. By Bill Finger et al. Art by Bob Kane, Dick Sprang, Jim Aparo, Neal Adams, Bruce Timm et al. Part man and part monster, Two-Face is an essential part of the Dark Knight's rogues gallery, but unlike the Joker, Two-Face alone has some good left inside his soul fighting his evil persona-half the time, anyway. From his first appearance in 1942, with five pre-code stories plus 11 more, the best of Two-Face. DC, 2017. TF75TH. HC, 7x10, 384pg, FC $39.99 - $34.99

Dailies, 1955-57. Highly Recommended. By Rod Reed. Art by Jose Luis Salinas. The third volume of the complete reprinting of The Cisco Kid. The fine line work by Salinas is just amazing, challenging the quality of work by James Montgomery Flagg, Everett Raymond Kinstler, and Mac Raboy. In June 1965, artist Fredericks took over Mandrake from the late Phil Davis.
